

The Academic Literacy Talent and Leadership Course

The EMI Teaching Resource Center of National Taiwan Normal University, in response to the increased demand for EMI teaching assistants as a result of the active expansion of EMI programs in various colleges and universities, is organizing The Academic Literacy Talent and Leadership Course. Through the “EMI Basic Competency Training Course” and “Academic English Tutor Training Course”, students can learn the professional knowledge of EMI teaching assistants regardless of their geographical location through physical and online learning.

Qualifications

1. Students enrolled in college or graduate school of universities in Taiwan, or those who are interested in serving as a EMI TA / Writing Center tutor.
2. Fluent in English (B2 or above is recommended)

How to Apply

Application forms and related information are posted on the RCEMI Academic English Talent and Leadership Program page of the Center's official website.

Completion Criteria

Attend at least 6 hours of the program and complete the AI speaking training for the program.
Students who complete the course feedback questionnaire within the time limit (2024/12/13) will be issued a certificate of completion.
