

National Taiwan Normal University

EMI Teaching Empowerment Course

2024 Fall

Eligibility

Current university lecturers nationwide (including project-based) who meet the following criteria:

1. Teachers planning to implement EMI courses in the 2024 academic year.
2. Available to participate in the teaching demonstration on Saturday, Dec. 7, 2024.

a Certificate of Completion issued by NTNU will be certified to course completers.

Registration

Please find the application forms and relevant information on NTNU Resource Center for EMI's website or scan the QR code provided below.

Important Schedule

Registration	Announcement	Course Period	Certificates Issued
Aug. 22 (Thur.) 09:00 to Sep. 27 (Mon.) 16:00	Oct. 8 (Tue.)	Sep. 19 (Thur.) to Nov. 29 (Fri.)	Dec. 13 (Fri.)

Course Guidelines:

1. The course consists of four modules: EMI Teaching Context, EMI Pedagogy, EMI Intercultural Communication, and EMI Teaching Demonstration.
2. To receive a completion certificate, participants must complete 36 hours of coursework. Those who do not meet this requirement will receive only a certificate of attendance.
3. Access to the Moodle platform and Sensay AI English-speaking tool is provided throughout the course.
4. All lectures will be recorded for academic purposes. By registering, you agree to the recording and the use of your likeness by NTNU RCEMI.

Time	Featured Talks	Lecturer
09/19(Thur.)12:20-13:00	Using AI to Upgrade Your Oral Presentation	Dr. Ya-Chu Fan Center for Academic Literacy, NTNU Associate Executive Director, RCEMI, NTNU
09/20 (Fri.) 12:20-13:00	Using AI to Upgrade Your EMI Oral Instruction
10/22 (Tue.) 10:00-12:00	What is EMI and Why EMI?	Dr. Eniko Csomay Professor, Linguistics and Asian/Middle Eastern Languages Department, San Diego State University
10/29 (Tue.) 10:00-12:00	EMI Challenges in Language and Culture
11/05 (Tue.) 10:00-12:00	How to Apply EMI Teaching Strategies in My Class?
11/12 (Tue.) 10:00-12:00	Build-up Assessment Principles in EMI Class and Showcasing Success Stories	Dr. Amy B. M. Tsui Chair Professor, English Department, YuShan Fellow, NTNU
10/25 (Fri.) 13:00-17:00	Collaborative Construction of Knowledge Through EMI Symposium (Day 1)
10/26 (Sat.) 09:00-17:00	Collaborative Construction of Knowledge Through EMI Symposium (Day 2)	Dr. Yeu-Ting Liu Professor, English Department, NTNU Associate Vice President, Academic and Affairs, NTNU
11/19 (Tue.) 10:00-12:00	EMI Teaching ER : Inquires and Solutions

Organizer

Co-organizer

Contact

Scan QR code
to get more information

